Bedsore and Nursing Home Negligence

Knowing the realities of nursing home abuse can help you and your family to be better able to recognize the symptoms of elderly abuse in nursing homes and react quickly before a bedsore outbreak, or another ailment associated with neglect becomes a significant health issue. Bedsore in nursing homes is a growing problem that can often lead to bringing in a nursing home negligence lawyer to fight your case.

Bedsore can occur when you are left alone for too long in bed . Even patients who are confined to their bed will not develop sores if they are treated properly. Unfortunately, this is not always the case, and many patients are left unattended for prolonged periods of time. If you are not being shifted in your bed at regular intervals, are not being bathed properly, and do not have the care and attention that you deserve, bedsore can develop.

If your loved one is suffering bed sores from the neglect of a nursing home, contact California personal injury attorneys at Johnson Attorneys Group right away. Call us at 1 800-248-6822 for a free consultation.

California Nursing Home Neglect Laws

If you or a loved one is suffering from pressure sores due to elder abuse or neglect at the hands of the people you have paid to provide vital care, our team of nursing home neglect lawyers at Johnson Attorneys Group can help. It is a sad fact that residents in California suffer nearly double the national average of abuse instances. Because you are entitled to compensation, it is important that you seek legal advice immediately. There is no requirement to have medical insurance in order to pursue your legal rights, and no fee will be due until the conclusion of the settlement process. It is important to understand the rights afforded to you under the Elder Abuse and Dependent Adult Civil Protection Act. This law is in place to protect you from suffering that is caused by neglect or abuse.
