The cost of medical care and lost wages can dramatically affect your finances. As a victim, you may not know what you are supposed to do and what you are not supposed to do. It's frustrating to know that you have suffered injuries as a result of someone else's carelessness. You may be wondering what to do about your hospital bills, physical therapy costs, and of course, loss of income.

However, one of the big questions that will always come up is; "do I need a personal injury lawyer to handle my situation or is this something I can handle myself?" It is always in your best interest to speak with a professional and experienced personal injury attorney to guide you through the complex legal process and help you get the justice that you deserve.

Do I Need an Attorney to Handle My Personal Injury Claim?

Although you aren't legally required to hire an attorney to handle your personal injury claim, there are some situations that prove difficult handle on your own. Certainly, it's possible to file all the necessary paperwork and represent yourself in court, but do you have the time and knowledge to do this properly. Also, the big question remains; "will you get the compensation that you deserve?" Winning a personal injury case without legal representation is difficult. You will be up against the insurance company's high-powered legal team and most likely you will not be a match for their expertise. Our experienced attorneys know their tactics and we are prepared to fight to get you what you deserve. .

If you are unable to negotiate fair compensation, are you prepared to go to court? This would require to bring extensive work including hiring expert witnesses, cross-examining the defense witnesses, sorting through the documents provided by the defendant and also following complex rules of evidence and procedure. You will also have to provide evidence that supports your desired settlement and if you don't win you may have to live with the results.

When Do You Need a Personal Injury Lawyer? California Personal Injury Accident Laws

If you have suffered critical injuries due to an accident in California, we advise you to hire a personal injury lawyer who will handle your case and ensure that you get fairly compensated.

As mentioned earlier, it is always good to remember the fact that filing a personal injury lawsuit usually requires specialized skills and training as well as a thorough knowledge of the California legal system. Here are some examples of scenarios that may require you to hire a personal injury attorney:

- You Have Suffered Long-Term Injuries: If you have sustained bodily injuries that will most likely require long-term care or left you with permanent disabilities, make sure that you talk to a personal injury lawyer immediately. It is best that an experienced attorney review your case and calculate how much your injuries are worth. Furthermore, trying to figure out the overall financial impact your injuries may have on your long-term earning capacity is something that requires expert assistance.
- Liability Isn't Clear, or Multiple Parties Are Involved: If you are involved in an accident where multiple parties are involved, then you should also consider hiring a personal injury attorney. Keep in mind that insurance claims can be quite complicated when several parties are involved in a case. Things might even be worse if there are multiple injured people seeking compensation. In such a case, you may also be the subject of insurance claims from other parties involved which might decrease your settlement significantly. In such a case, an attorney will safeguard your interests and ensure that your compensation is maximized.
- Your Insurance Company Refuses to Compensate You or Engages in Bad Faith Tactics: Sometimes, your insurance company may refuse to compensate you at all or offer an unfair settlement. If you feel like what the insurance company is offering you is unfair, you may reject the settlement and contact an experienced attorney. The lawyer will review your case and negotiate with the insurance provider on your behalf. If you also discover that the insurance company is engaged in bad faith insurance tactics, talk to a personal injury attorney who has experience litigating such insurance claims.
